TBG Technologies Moves From Wauwatosa to Larger Offices in West Allis

Milwaukee, Wis. – February 18, 2020 — TBG Technologies has moved from Wauwatosa to larger offices at 11300 W. Greenfield Avenue, West Allis, Wis., 53214. The relocation is in response to the company’s unprecedented growth and its continuing commitment to meet client needs.

Jake Polzin, president of TBG Technologies said, “TBG has been growing by leaps and bounds in 2019, especially with the addition of VOIP phone service. Moving to a larger office was much-needed as we outgrew the last location. Having been born and raised in West Allis, bringing the business here was a no-brainer.”

“Our new location offers us the space we need with room to grow and gives us the ability to host client meetings in-house, and to display our products and services in a much more personal way. Our old location was 750 sf, and our new location is 1,400 sf,” continued Polzin.

Founded in 2004 by Toomas and Antonija Mitt, TBG Networks has helped companies in the Midwest design networks, choose equipment, and manage their technology. TBG Networks rebranded to TBG Technologies in late 2019, and Jake Polzin is the president.

Founder Toomas Mitt is a sought-after and frequent regional keynote presenter on cyber security, VOIP phone systems, and small business IT solutions.

TBG Technologies is a unique resource for small business operations. TBG finds the right solutions, specific to your industry, and provides appropriate secure systems for your business and market. TBG finds the best, cost-effective systems for its clients, encompassing security, collaboration, networking, and VOIP.

TBG Technologies is located at 11300 W. Greenfield Avenue, West Allis, WI 53214. For more information contact Jake Polzin, President, at 414-775-7745 or jake@tbgtechnologies.com.
