Starion mortgage banker named top 1% in nation

Starion Bank mortgage banking supervisor Brian Schutz has been named to the Mortgage Executive Magazine's Top 1% of Mortgage Originators in America list.

Schutz, a mortgage banking officer since 2010, is located at the Middleton branch on John Q. Hammons Drive. A part of the banking industry since 2006, Schutz joined Starion in 2016. Brian earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business from the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. In his free time, Schutz enjoys spending time with his two daughters.

Mortgage Executive Magazine annually compiles a comprehensive list of the nation's top one percent of mortgage originators in the United States to recognize and celebrate their service, dedication, and hard work it takes to serve clients during the home loan process. The list debuted in 1995 as the Top 100 Mortgage Originator list in Mortgage Originator Magazine. In 2011, Mortgage Executive Magazine expanded the rankings to include the top one percent of the hundreds of thousands of mortgage originators in the U.S. The minimum eligibility criteria is a total personal production of at least $30 million in 2020.
