STORE HERE SELF STORAGE PROVIDES UP TO TWO MONTHS OF FREE STORAGE FOR MENASHA TORNADO VICTIMS

Relief program available through August 15, 2026, to help residents and businesses recover from storm damage.

Menasha, WI (July 31, 2026) — Following the devastating tornado that impacted the Menasha area on July 27, Store Here Self Storage at 2225 American Drive in Menasha, WI, is offering up to two months of complimentary storage to residents and businesses affected by the storm. The relief program is available through August 15, 2026, to help those who need a safe place to store belongings throughout the recovery process.

Following the tornado, many Menasha residents and business owners are facing the challenge of managing damaged properties while working through cleanup, repairs, and rebuilding. Store Here's 100% temperature-controlled storage units provide a secure, accessible space for furniture, electronics, documents, and other valuables during recovery.

The Menasha facility also features seven-day access, RV and boat parking, on-site U-Haul truck rentals to assist with moving needs, and professional on-site rental management.

"Seeing the damage from this tornado has been heartbreaking," said Ryan Rogers, Managing Partner at RHW Capital Management Group, LLC, which owns and operates self-storage facilities through Store Here Self Storage. "If providing free storage can ease even a small part of that burden, we're glad to do it. Our goal is to help people protect what matters most as the community rebuilds."

Customers impacted by the tornado are encouraged to speak with the on-site rental manager or visit <https://storehere.com/locations/menasha> to learn more about eligibility and reserve a storage unit. The offer is available to qualifying residents and businesses affected by the July 27 tornado and must be claimed by August 15, 2026.

“Our thoughts are with everyone in the Menasha area impacted by today’s tornado,” said Tori Anthony, on-site Property Manager at Store Here Self Storage, following the July 27 storm. “We want to do our part to help our neighbors during this difficult time by giving them a place to store their belongings, free of charge, while they focus on getting back on their feet.”
