The Voice of Milk expands member services team with new Strategic Account Manager

GREEN BAY, Wis. — The Voice of Milk, a collaboration between the Dairy Business Association, Edge Dairy Farmer Cooperative and Minnesota Milk Producers Association, today announced a new addition to its member services team. Barb Grzywinski joins as a Strategic Account Manager, working directly with members in Wisconsin to provide support and services needed to meet policy, regulation and sustainability challenges.

Grzywinski has spent the majority of her career in the agriculture industry, helping farmers and connecting them with resources to support their success. She has over 20 years of experience as a dairy nutritionist, with a diverse background in herd management, field representation and laboratory work.

"Throughout my career, I have had the opportunity to work closely with dairy farmers by visiting their operations, building relationships, understanding their needs and helping connect them with the information and resources necessary to support their farms," Grzywinski said. "I am excited to bring my experience in agriculture, my relationships and my passion for supporting dairy farm families to my role with the Voice of Milk."

Grzywinski holds a Bachelor of Science in Animal Science with an emphasis in Dairy Science from the University of Wisconsin River Falls. She lives with her family in Eden, Wis.

"With her extensive experience and strong communication skills, Barb will be a great addition to our member services team," Tim Trotter, Edge CEO, said. "Along with the rest of our Strategic Account Manager team, she is dedicated to enhancing member engagement and strengthening support for all our valued members."
